SOVIET ARMY IS SPURRED
IN STALIN'S BROADCAST

LONDON, Feb. 24 (INS) -- Premier Josef Stalin urged the fighting forces of Russia Sunday to attain a high degree of fighting efficiency and morale and praised Russia's non-military personnel for reaching planned objectives during the past year.

His statements were issued in a broadcast order of the day commemorating the 29th anniversary of the Red Army, heard in London.

Premier Stalin said: "The task of the entire personnel of the army, air force and navy is to work constantly to perfect military skill and continue through study of the experience of war and make effective use of it."
